A Down Town Merchant,

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning some the day following the father found the baby still worse, and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Syrup to the baby, and fell nothing. That night all hands slept well and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use it ever since, and suffering, crying fretfulness nights have not happened. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby and overcome the prejudices of the mother.

AGONY.

PHYSICIANS DOMINATED.

Suppose there is not in the whole of materia medica a specific for human suffering which really feels his sympathy and pity to such an extent as he witness the excruciating pains of a fatal mortal suffering from that fearful disease Rheumatism. Heretofore there has been considerable difference of opinion among medical men as to the true character of this disease, some holding it in the throat or muscular tissue of the body, and others viewing it as a nervous nervous disease, but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood. It is admitted that rheumatism can never be thoroughly cured without exterminating such poisonous matter from the blood by a powerful, but safe, internal remedy. We feel confident that none will feel better satisfied and repose more than the conscientious physician who has discovered such a treasure for this stubborn disease has been discovered. The following testimony from a Portland gentleman cannot fail to satisfy all that the

Diamond Rheumatic Cure

is a wonderful Medical Discovery.

PORTLAND, Dec. 11, 1874.

Prof. Alphonzo Miller

Dear Sir: Unsolicited by you, I wish to bear testimony to the efficacy of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. During the past year I have suffered great pain from Rheumatism and neuralgic affection of the right arm. My shoulder was so affected that my left arm was powerless and I despaired of ever being able to use it. I was induced to purchase of the many marvelous cures recommended by the press while living at No. 7 Cole street, Portland, which have since ceased, and I can still all night at rest from pain, with no indication of its return, and the feeling of new life, strength and elasticity to the use of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. Have the kindness to pass my testimony and gratefully around for the benefit of suffering humanity.

Yours truly,

CYRUS BANGS, Jr., Temple St.

FURTHER PROOF.

CAPE ELIZABETH, Nov. 13, 1874.

Professor Miller

Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have been a great sufferer from rheumatic disorders for the past three years, and during the last year my sufferings have been beyond description. My right side was affected, so that I could not turn in bed without I tried the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. It is truly a wonderful remedy. Respectfully yours, MARIA [illegible]

Mrs. Capt. Walden is witness to this statement.

The discoverer of this medicine walked the wards of the hospitals of London and Paris for the most severely afflicted rheumatic patients, and by the use of this remedy cured them. A great many persons have been cured in this city by its use. It is simple in nature and harmless in its effects. To the above agents I desire to give way by the use of four or five bottles. Call on or address, DR. A. MILLER, 7 Cole street, Portland, Me. Price $1.00 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

A Card to the Public!

BANGOR TROTTING PARK.

The proprietor of the above Park gives public notice that, having been to great expense to place the track in excellent condition, he demands of the community a proper recognition of his rights.

Season tickets are now ready for those desiring the use of the track for the purpose of exercising or training their horses, on all days, excepting those of advertised race.

Any gentleman principles not yet purchased one and wishes to obtain his name, can procure a ticket by application to the proprietor, or to his manager at the track, or at the office of the Penobscot Exchange.

Notice is also hereby given that any person found within the enclosure on days of advertised trots, who has entered in an unlawful way and without purchasing a ticket, will be arrested and prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

The above is rendered necessary from the fact that numbers are daily driving on the track without paying for the privilege, and also that during my recent June meeting, from a station to conceal half the number of spectators were composed of persons who had broken the fence or gone by the gate keepers by false statements of their right to do so.

It is hoped that all lovers of horses and horse trotting and those desiring to see racing conducted in a fair and honorable manner, will assist the proprietor in the laudable endeavor to improve turf interests in this vicinity.

No gentleman will---some other must break over the rules above expressed.

To his many friends and the public at large the subscriber extends his sincere thanks for their patronage

THE INSANE HOSPITAL

DEDICATION OF THE NEW PLEASURE PARK

---A HAPPY SEASON AND INTERESTING EXERCISES.

[From the Kennebec Journal.]

If ever there was laid out by nature a plot of land better fitted for a pleasure park than that which has been assigned for that purpose on the grounds of the Insane Hospital in this city, we never saw it. Its nearness to the buildings is in its favor, to begin with, being but a few rods north of the main buildings. A pathway leading from the highway, conducts you to the gateway of the Park, where you enter, and spread out before you is a carpet of green, a new mown lawn, still fragrant with the sacrifices of the burden of grass that it has borne and that has now been ruthlessly cut down, like so much human grass. On the edge of this lawn of perhaps a couple of acres in extent, with a forest growth of young oak, beech, and a sprinkling of ancient pine, is a deep, natural ravine, leading two ways, and encircling a plateau of land about an acre in extent. This land rises down to a point, and the grove forms a semi-circle about it, and the land making a gradual ascent from this point, forms a complete amphitheatre, or indeed room, so to speak. In that delightful grove and on the gently sloping sides of this ravine the poor unfortunates at the hospital may recline and rest, breathing the pure air of the miniature woods, or, on the grassy lawn or hillocks, they may bask in the healthful and grateful rays of the sun better for them than any medicine the earth ever yielded or the mind of the most skillful pharmacist ever concocted. This Park is designed for an airing place and pleasure ground for the insane and by its natural configuration is just the place for that purpose. It is what Dr. Harlow has been asking for these twenty years, and it is creditable to the judgment and benevolent feeling of the present board of Trustees that they have put his desires in a tangible form in the interest of poor, crazed, broken-down, human creatures, we think the Trustees, for this bright, green, shady, sunny spot, with God's own blue sky overhead, and his pure air encircling it. Rustic bridges and other improvements are in contemplation on the grounds.

On Saturday afternoon last, the Park was formally dedicated by a regular Fourth of July celebration. The inmates had been looking forward to the event with the most lively anticipations, and arrayed themselves in costumes, both grotesque and unique emerging from their neat apartments, where everything is so clean and tidy, they top up the line of march to the rising point of land, between the ravines we have described.

At this point we have mentioned the speaker's stand, and had been erected the top covered with canvass, and in front of which was a platform, where the "light fantastic toe" could be tripped by all desiring to do so. By the grove on the left were the well spread tables, and on the right, seats for the aged and infirm. There are 404 inmates at the hospital now---207 males and 197 females. One hundred and eighty of these come out to participate in the celebration,---the mildly insane and others not quite so mildly. It would surprise a stranger to notice their orderly deportment and quiet demeanor. With the exception of the expression of the face, a peculiar tone of the voice, and at times and once in a while a wild, restless manifestation, you would scarcely notice that you were in a company of insane men and women. How they did seem to enjoy their new privilege! To think that they could stand again upon the green earth, with scarcely no restraints, was a joy indeed, and let's tell our readers that these people appreciated it.

On the stand were Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Quimby, Dr. Harlow and family, J. W. Chase, Esq. one of the Trustees, and wife, Steward Lakin and wife, Hon. Warren Johnson, Rev. Mr. Pebney, Chaplain, and wife, Superior Hodgdon, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. Mason, and other lady guests, including some of the well known patients. [Dr. Sanborn remained at the hospital to attend to the patients there.

The congregation having assembled about the stand, they were called to order by the Superintendent, Dr. H. M. Harlow, who acted as master of ceremonies. He said that it was proposed to dedicate the grounds to the pleasure and enjoyment of those whom he said feared, and he called upon all to give their attention to the exercises.

Prayer was offered by Rev. C. F. Penney, hospital chaplain. He thanked the Farther of Mercies for the pleasant day and the gladlight of the sun, but there was not light enough in all the universe to symbolize the love and mercy shed forth from him, lifting us up continually to Himself. He thanked God, for the goodly country in which we live. He invoked the Divine blessing upon the assemblage and the hour, and the grounds set apart and consecrated for pleasure and good health that the blessings sought by loving hearts may be given those for whom they are asked.

The hymn, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow," was sung with the spirit and the understanding also. There was true praise in the exercise. The instrumental music was furnished by the hospital band. Mr. Vernon Love played the violin, and Mr. Will Chandler the organ.

The grand Declaration of Independence was then read in clear voice and with distinct enunciation, by Edward Mills of Bangor. At the conclusion a good natured fleshy lady, probably brought up in a democratic family, called for three cheers for Andrew Jackson!

Rev. Dr. Quimby addressed the assemblage, saying that this was a kind of fourth of July gathering, a sort of Independence Day, and he was glad to be here. He was glad to notice that so many looked happy. It had been said that "a merry heart doeth good like a medicine." One of the patients---"Like a dose of Lobelia?" A merry face speaks of a good heart. We are apt to be too cross, morose and consequently unhappy. Let us be more cheerful and make the best of everything. He congratulate in the "golden hour"

MR. MARCELLUS EMERY sticks to the Bath. He picks out a single paragraph attributed to him in the recent open letter and denies that he ever penned it. Several other paragraphs just as bad he had just as much time just as treasonous he does not deny. He is simply quarrelling over the spoil. While he was arrangued on the spot. We do not possess a file of the Bath Sentinel during the days in which Fell Davis was paper in Maine and do not care much pro or con on this particular paragraph. But this we do know. In denying the campaign lie to Mr. Emery was a candidate for Congress in the Fourth District a broadside was issued from the White office, giving extracts from Mr. Emery's paper during the war, and the paragraph of which he now denies the fact or hides is taken from that broadside. Moreover we never heard that Mr. Emery essayed to deny the correctness of the quotation made by the White in the broadside afore-said. We submit therefore that it is rather late for Mr. Emery to bristle up and stump us as the boys say to tell where and when he published this offensive sentiment. If he will send us a complete file of the Democrat before an indignant people have had the time to pitch it into the street, we make no doubt whatever that we can find what we quoted and a great deal more of the same sort. Meanwhile let Mr. Emery show that during the crisis of the Nation's life he ever wrote or uttered a single word of atonement, or ever failed when occasion offered to outrage the feelings of the soldiers whose votes he would now fain allure to the standard of his political associates from Roberts.—Portland Press.

It is very amusing to find Marcellus Emery so emphatic in this denial in reply to language repeatedly attributed to him in these columns and without a word or sign of contradiction. It is sufficient to say that half the quotations referred to were made by the editor of this paper in the pages of Mr. Emery's publication—and if Emery or his editorial substitute is so full of memory as he claims he should be able to call to mind the fact. He also claims that he was not responsible for the articles published in the paper of which he was then editor. Then why did he not disclaim them—that is worth while.

The Bangor Whig editor is having a little row with Mr. Pillsbury, of the Maine Farmer, who is not complimentary to Pillsbury calls the editor of the Whig a liar. He also charged him with being a deserter from the draft in time of war. The Whig replies to the word liar by pitchforking a couple of columns of Mr. Pillsbury's editorial, which he published the Tuesday after during the war. The Whig says from Mr. Pillsbury's own pen are more damaging to him than anything which will possibly be said about him by another. A man who proposes to call another a liar had better cover up his own record.—Waterville Mail.

Mr. Dennis S. King was to make balloon ascension at Ryde Park, Vermont, on Thursday last, but a high wind which came up prevented. Last week I gave a full description of the undertaking. Hydrogen gas was to manufactured on the ground to fill the balloon but the wind was so strong that an ascension with any degree of safety was entirely out of the question. It was found impossible to retain the balloon except at the risk of its destruction and it was liberated without an occupant. The Boston Journal says this is undoubtedly the balloon which is reported to have come down at Boothbay Maine, the same evening. The distance from Ryde Park to Boothbay on an air line is about one hundred and seventy miles.

Senator Sargent, in his recent speech in San Francisco, gave his auditors the following practical reminder:

Have you thought, fellow-citizens that the reduction of the national debt has been $1.59 a minute since you have sat here and listened to me talking? Talking the average of the whole time the reduction of the debt has gone on at that rate. Why, take your watch and look at it. See the second-hand as it flies; at each tick of the second-hand two dollars of the debt is gone. Since the inauguration by day and by night, upon week day and upon Sunday—two dollars per second in gold has gone off the national debt.

When a hot-headed Frenchman like Gambetta, who knows not what fear is, declines to fight a duck on the ground that he has duties and responsibilities to fulfill toward his country and the Republican cause, it shows a change for the better in public sentiment in France, a change that promises much for stability of government in the future.

During the Franco-German war when the Prussians had Paris under seige the inhabitants of that city received some news by means of tin cases floated down the Seine, but this means of communication was soon stopped by barriers placed across the river at Villeneuve St. Georges. Recently one of these cases was dragged up in a net by a fisherman named Vanot, of the village of Vimpelles. It had evidently been overweighted, and sinking had escaped capture. Its contents were about 600 letters, which Vanot distributed among his friends, but the authorities hearing of the matter secured the letters, all of them being dry and in perfect preservation, and have been engaged in forwarding them to their proper addresses.

Lawyer Beach intimated that he had evidence for the Court that some of the jury men in the great scandal case had been tampered with. He cannot afford to rest under the suspicion that this was done for effect, and that his testimony was like that of Loader and Price. Lawyer Beach should bring forward his witnesses.—[Boston Traveller

The remarkable race-horse Lexington which has just died, left a numerous family with bags of money in it. His colt Norfolk was sold by Mr. Alexander, his owner in 1864, for $15,000, in 1868 Kentucky then Magnolia, brought the enormous sum of $40,000, and at every annual sale for several years past of year lings at the Woodburn farm, near Lexington, Ky., where Lexington was kept and finally died, the Lexingtons brought large figures. Among the horses noted on the turf by Lexington were Lightning, Loadstone, Daniel Boone, Gilroy, Kentucky, Harry Bassett, Tom Bowline, Idlewild, etc., and a vast number of mares and grandsons and grand-daughters equal to the first generation. Lexington's great feat was running four miles in eight minutes 19½ seconds, winning a wager of $20,000 for Mr. Ten Broek. This achievement was unequalled for twenty years, when his grandson, Fellowcraft, by imported Australian out of Aerolite, ran four miles, at Saratoga, in 7 19¼. One of the best sons of Lexington was the four-mile horse Lightning, then Blue Bonnet, imported Hedgeford. Lightning died young, leaving as his best son Mr. Russell's Privateer, the handsome race-horse now at Leicester. Mr. Russell has also a son of Lexington in Tyrer who is said to resemble his sire very much in style and form. Lexington was a large horse, of rich bay color, with long white face and a white nose. A decided contradiction of the silly old proverb.

A gentleman of Boston is the owner of a miniature steam yacht, seventeen feet long and forty two-inch beam, with a hull we ghing but one hundred pounds. She is propelled by a steel boiler weighing only forty eight pounds with a cylinder of one and three-fourths inches and a stroke of two and three-fourths inches. The propeller is four-bladed, and is placed under the boat two feet from the stern. One gallon of water fills the boiler, and after it condenses it is only necessary to supply the waste. The boat draws twenty-four inches of water, which carries her propeller clear. She cost about $300, and is rated at half-horse-power. Her owner says he made a voyage with her from Boston to Portland.

Fines are fines in the Grand Duchy of Posen. One was imposed on the newspaper Kurger Posenanski whereupon the editor opened a subscription to oppose to the penalty a popular demonstration. All the subscription money was confiscated and an addition fine of four hundred and fifty marks was imposed by this attempt to avoid the proper operation of the penalty.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

It took the California Democrats three days to get through with their State Convention, but it does not appear that what they did was of importance.

Atlanta Georgia, is the first Southern city in which since the war the national anniversary has been celebrated by the white people, and this year is the first time it has been done there.

An honest Democrat has written an obituary of his party for the Cincinnatic Gazette. He says the Democratic party of Ohio has ceased to exist, and in its place has come an organization, two-thirds of which is made up of Catholics and one-third of saloon keepers.

The leading Democratic organ of Texas says that there always must be one leading issue, if the Republicans discard the third term notion, "it is difficult to conceive what issue can take precedence of the currency question." Consider them, the currency question do.

Hon. S. S. Cox made his Fourth of July address on "Home Rule." He did not tell about going home to Ohio to rule the financial platform of his Democratic brethren, and how he was sent back to his New York home to rule, his own chagrin over his utter failure.

A private letter from a prominent Ohio Republican, received in Washington, says that the canvass in that State has not fully begun, but that it is becoming evident to the leaders of both parties that the Republicans will carry the State by a good majority and probably elect a majority of the Legislature.

Ex-Governor Samuel J. Kirkwood who has been nominated for Governor by the Iowa Republicans was first elected in 1860, when his party's popularity was such as that of his last election majority being about 1 600 in excess of Lincoln's majority over Douglas. He served with signal distinction as Iowa's first War Governor.

A Georgia Republican, who discusses the political situation in the New York Times says there is a strong inclination on the part of the more liberal wing of the Democracy to withdraw from the Bourbons, and that if the Republicans should carry the next Presidential election, then a powerful Republican party may be organized in every Southern State led by able, honest, skilful men. He concludes

"The South is now comparatively quiet, but it is the quiet that precedes a storm. The bad element is more easily controlled than formerly, and the cheap, impecunious Bourbons are so perfect that it is not necessary for them now to "fire the Southern heart." That, however, will be done at the proper time.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

We have received from Messrs D Appleton & Co the twelfth volume of Appleton's American Cyclopædia, which extends in the alphabet from Mob to Pal. The range of subjects is large and they are treated in that same thorough, systematic and discriminating style for which the preceding eleven volumes have received so much praise. The volume is in every way worthy of the distinguished contributors, many of whom are experts who are recognized authority on the subjects which they treat of. Among these are the following: In the department of Biography and history, Robert Carter, Rossiter Johnson, Frank B. Noble, Bishop O'Reilly, Philip Ripley, John Gilmary Shea, Paul Arpin, Julian Bing, Professor J. A. Spencer, and Edward J. Burlingame. In astronomy and in physical and descriptive geography, Richard Proctor, Count de Pourtales, T. Sterry Hunt, Willard Bartlett, John D. Champlin, Jr. Eaton S. Drone, Professor W. E. Griffis, J. W. Hawes and L. de Veaelle, are contributors whose names will be readily recognized in the sciences New England furnishes a large share of the contributors,—Dr. Edward H Clarke, Dr. Robert T. Edes, Professor S. Kneeland, Professor Frank H. Storer, Professor W. H. Draper, and to these may be added the names of Professor J. G. Dalton, Professor James Hall, Professor Benjamin W. McCreedy and Professor Charles N. Riley, all of which are well known among the leading scientists of the day. The Editors who bestow the utmost care upon their labors have had valuable aid on legal subjects from Hon. T. M. Cooley, of Michigan, and Judge Daly, of New York, and Prof. G H F Van Hagn in philology and archæology, as well as specialists of eminence in other departments. The various articles of the accomplished contributors are written with reference to the latest discoveries and investigations, the facts and statistics based upon them are from the latest census. Verbal descriptions are rendered still more valuable and perspicuous by fine illustrations, and everything about the volume from its rough, able writers, careful editing, and faultless letter press and excellent materials, can praise.

The July number of the UNITED STATES OFFICIAL POSTAL GUIDE closes the first year of this useful publication, and is in all respects equal to the previous numbers. Besides its alphabetical list of all the post offices in the country corrected up to date, it gives the very important new information respecting foreign mails which results from the recent treaty. The matter here given is the official publication, is very full and comprehensive, and valuable to all persons having foreign correspondence. The number contains also the Rulings of the Post Office Department during the last quarter, and a revision of all the regular matter which accompanies the Guide. Subscriptions are received both at the post offices and by the publishers, H. O. Houghton & Co., Riverside Press, Cambridge, Mass.

PARTING EXERCISES.

At the Commencement Dinner in the Gymnasium, President Chamberlain presided. Rev J. S. C. Abbott, of the class of 1825, read sketches of deceased members, and speeches were made by Hons. S. P. Benson and J. W. Bradbury of the same class. Governor Dingley and Hon. James G. Blaine also spoke briefly. A poem appropriate to the occasion was also read by Professor J. Dunn of the class of '25, and Professor Packard read one written by a member of the class of '26.

The announcement that Hon. James G. Blaine had subscribed $2,100 to the college endowment fund was received with great applause.

The reception to be given by President Chamberlain to-night promises to be a brilliant affair.

Q. J.

A few days ago, while some laborers were at work on some excavations near Big Prairie, in Monroe county, Mich., they came upon a quantity of bones forming the skeleton of a mastodon, which were exhumed and brought to Monroe. One of the tusks was nearly nine feet in length and seven inches in diameter at its smallest extremity, where a portion seems to have been broken off. Several teeth were found of a greater or less degree of preservation, which measured six inches in diameter, the largest weighing five pounds. One of the ribs was nearly eight feet long, and the entire skeleton must have been twenty or thirty feet in length.

In 1870 there was a plague of caterpillars in Auvergne, and by order of the Bishop a legal document was made out calling on the caterpillars to appear in court before him, and requiring them, under pain of excommunication, to leave the country. A recent English work on Zoology alleges the strongest that the original may be seen in the Library at Clermont.

MOULTON WANTS A TRIAL.

His Letter to the District Attorney.

A VERY PERTINENT REPLY.

Moulton Calls on the District Attorney for a Trial on His Indictment for Libel.

NEW YORK, July 8. The following letter has been received by District Attorney Britton, of Kings county:

124 MONTAGUE ST.,
BROOKLYN, July 8.

SIR.—It is now nearly a year since at the instance of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, I was indicted for libel in charging him with adultery with Mrs. Elizabeth R. Tilton, and during all the time the prosecution have taken no step for the trial of the indictment. I am advised that I have a right to demand a trial, and accordingly I hereby notify you that I am ready at any moment to meet the charges, and I request you to appoint the earliest practicable day for the trial and since it is intimated by the partisans of the prosecutor that they intend to shield him from the consequences of the exposure involved in the trial of my charge of adultery by procuring a withdrawal or suppression of the indictment, I hereby protest against such an evasion of public justice and outrage upon private right. If Rev. Henry Ward Beecher is innocent of the charge I have published against him, I ought to be punished for no offence. On the other hand, if I have not accused him falsely I am guilty of no offence and society and the law owe me an acquittal and vindication from the indictment preferred against me.

Very respectfully, &c.,
FRANCIS D. MOULTON.

The District Attorney's Pertinent Reply.

BROOKLYN, July 8.

Francis D. Moulton, Esq.

Dear Sir—The contents and character of the publications relating to the Beecher-Tilton controversy for the past year have been such that I am inclined to think that ... I am called upon to prosecute criminally every libel which has been published in connection with it. The most important administration of the criminal law will of necessity stand over for the next half century. It is among the misfortunes of the civil courts that parties may there indulge in all manner of quarrels and exploits natural or artificial, at their will, but courts of criminal jurisdiction are not opened only by the people, and for the people of the State. In this hot weather, and cases like those of Loader and Price, have the preference, as it is regarded a greater hardship for parties not yet proven guilty to swear in Raymond street, than to suffer from like luxe publications. It would afford me great pleasure very much to say in any offence coming within the severe duties of the summer months, but it is out of our power to indulge you in what you seem to regard as a luxury at the cost of neglect of business entitled to a preference. Later on I may be able to accommodate you to your entire satisfaction and then you may have reason to regret that the ordeal had not turned your energies and fortitude during the heated term.

Very respectfully,
WINCHESTER BRITTON,
District Attorney.

The Vineyard Cable.

OAK BLUFF, July 8. The Vineyland telegraph cable was successfully landed to-day by the United States steamer Colfax. The route of the cable is across Vineyard sound from Falmouth Heights to the high bluff. The laying of the cable was accomplished in about two hours. A slack was filed when the end was taken on shore. The line of the cable is marked by a series of buoys half a mile apart, and red flag masters of vessels approaching it may be warned of its whereabouts, and thus avoid anchoring on it and hooking it up. Aside from the value of this line to summer visitors it will be of immense importance to the commercial world, as affording telegraphic communication with one of the chief marine news stations of the Atlantic coast.

The loss on both sides was considerable. The Alfonsist General Quesada and Lucas have forced the Carlist position at Trevano, and sent Tello to relieve Victoria, in the province of Alava. Many Carlists were killed in these movements and forty captured. The Spanish squadron has again bombarded the town of Bermeo, on the Biscayan coast, for two days. Among the prisoners captured by the Alfonsists at Canta Viejas were representatives of the provincial deputations of Arragon and pupils of the Carlist military school. The Carlists are continually presenting themselves to the authorities of the provinces of Castillon, and demanding amnesty.

It is just the best time in the world for a ride to Pushaw and a sail on the lake. The white perch are plenty and Wilson knows where to find 'em.

A baby fawn, a fortnight old, is the latest attraction for visitors to the deer park at Fort Point. It is a cunning little creature and receives a deal of petting.

A leading dealer in fancy goods on Main street says that his business for the last month or six weeks looks up fully a third better than during the corresponding time last year.

A Chorus of [illegible] will be pulled to-night over pond yesterday, for bonefine purposes.

[illegible] were somewhat terrified." He was taken to the Auburn House and placed in bed when his fellows gathered around him, delighted to find him drunk and ominous.

SAID he: "I wasn't badly scared. When I felt it struck right me and saw my head above water, I was in there as could be. I paved a title, though."

"Thought I would have to give you up, George, when I said you going down there," said one of his comrades.

"I didn't think anything of that kind," said Newman, "but it did seem a d——l of a while, though. Seems as if I went a hundred feet into that deep hole before I struck. But I kept kicking like the d——l, and when those big holes come, I jes' kept right on top of 'em, come up on. tried to kick my boots off, but couldn't. I tell you, boys, 'twas peculiar machinery to go through, but I'll go it work to-morrow. I won't skeer at all, or I shouldn't have slipped. But I don't want to try it over again, I tell you, 'Lish."

The doctors reported no bones broken. Several had bruises were gradually discovered by the patient, who signalized the discovery by using strong expletives. He continued:

"I held my breath 'Lish, from the time I took the plunge till I got to the bottom. I thought 'twas an hour, but I didn't take a bit of water."

"Don't believe anything else could go over there and live," said one of the men.

"Don't say I ain't tough, any more," said Newman. "But didn't I take good care of my head, tho' Fairways do, you know."

Some one of the crowd outside asked "Is he dead?"

"No," said the river driver, "only a little discouraged."

——We doubt if greater pluck, endurance and presence of mind can be shown than George A. Newman showed at one o'clock Thursday morning, when he plunged down the deep boiling cauldron of West Pitch. A suicide a few years since, found his last dead at that spot, as our readers will remember. The Indian legends say that a large party of Indians was once decoyed into the rapids above the falls and perished in West Pitch. However that may be, we should if any man ever passes through what George A. Newman passed on the morning of July 8th, to come out with the breath of life in him.

DR. O'FITZGERALD, the man that cures so many when everybody gives them up to die, is coming to Bangor the 15th and 16th of July, at "Franklin House," two days only. SOUTH POLE has also, this season, been truly wonderful. He examines all free of charge. Remember the date. 1y8 if NERVOUSNESS. It affords me great pleasure to bear testimony to the benefits I have received from using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. I have recommended it to many of my friends, and it has proved an excellent curative for nervousness and general debility.

It is also a first-class tonic, enables a person to take on flesh rapidly, and is free from the constipating effects characteristic of other tonics I have tried.

J. B. BERRY JOHNSTON, Montreal

It is no wonder that invalids lose faith in all specifics, when so many worthless medicines are advertised for the cure of various diseases; but try Hale's Honey of Horehound & Tar. "Warning," We have yet to hear, however, of the first failure of Dr Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry to cure coughs, colds, and pulmonary disease. 50 cts. and $1 a bottle, large bottles much the cheaper.

Corks removed at 38 Main St., down Boston Button store.

MONEY AND SECURITIES If you have occasion to buy or sell United States, State or City Bonds, Gold or Silver Coin, Coupons, Canadian Currency, Foreign Drafts, or any marketable Stocks or Securities, deal with BOWLER & MERRILL, BANKERS, No. 7 Kenduskeag Block, Bangor. They have every facility for transacting business promptly and economically in this and other markets, and are amply responsible. For the investment of Trust Funds &c., they offer Municipal Bonds of the best cities in the United States pay ng SIX TO EIGHT, per cent interest, and it will surely be advantageous to investors to purchase from them. They discount business Notes at current rates.

A medicinal preparation, and one which meets a want never before furnished to the world, is Hunt's Remedy. It is the anchor of hope to the youth and aged of either sex, for the removal of kidney, bladder and glandular diseases, diabetes, dropsy, gravel, dyspepsia and nervousness, sexual and physical debility and affections of the urino-genital organs. It regenerates and buoys up the whole nervous system.

SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC. In the atmosphere experienced here during the summer months, the lethargy produced by the heat takes away the desire for wholesome food, and frequent perspirations reduce bodily energy, particularly those suffering from the effects of debilitating diseases. In order to keep a natural, healthful activity of the system, we must resort to artificial means. For this purpose Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is very effectual. A few doses will create an appetite and give fresh vigor to the enervated body. For dyspepsia, it is invaluable. Many eminent physicians have declared whether dyspepsia can be permanently cured by the drugs which are generally employed for that purpose. The Sea Weed Tonic in its nature is totally different from such drugs. It contains no corrosive minerals or acids; in fact it assists the regular operations of nature, and supplies her deficiencies. The tonic in its nature so much resembles the gastric juice that it is almost identical with that fluid. The gastric juice is the natural solvent which, in a healthy condition of the body, causes the food to be digested; and when this juice is not expressed in sufficient quantities, indigestion, with all its distressing symptoms, follows. The Sea Weed Tonic performs the duty of the gastric juice when the latter is deficient. Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic sold by all Druggists.

ECONOMICAL NEW FOOD.—25 cents will buy a package of Sea Moss Farine, made from pure Irish Moss, which will make 50 kinds of dishes, such as cakes, pies, puddings, etc., for all quarts of custards, ellies, creams, Charlotte Russe, blanc mange, etc. Sold by all Druggists and Grocers.

THE CAPTIVE HUMMING BIRD.

Bird of the gem, of burnished crest,
Thy silver tipped wing
With nectar, gold and sapphire breast,
Hither captive bring!

Tell me the secret of thy song
And where thy robe of beams,
Thou gift, earth from dost belong,
Or Paradise of dreams?

Even for one season, of a ray,
Or fragrant wind, to roam,
Or haunt once more another May
Since I minstrel of the flowers!

The rose est nosegay kiss still,
Their lightest buds untold
Thee to slay, with honeyed bill,
Thou nectar sips of gold.

The lily opes its snowy cells,
Its pink its crimson glow,
Whispers every fond blue bell,
"No honey to the foe."

With hanging flowers for thee a fling
Their fragrance on the air
The purple morning glory cling
On high in beauty bare

Thy very chance of thy flight
And distance, plead before
Each downy creek, too small to climb
Longer and see ere you go

Mount on thy melodious wing
To Florida my heroine bring
Or Pan Panama's palms to bring
To revel in the flowers

Invade on their bosoms fair mid waves,
All frost lips assail,
As I go and find in your breast,
The heart of the heart

A DEVIL TREE.

It would be imagine, says the South Kensington Museum, a pine apple, eight feet high and thick in proportion, resting upon its base, and denuded of leaves you will have a good idea of the trunk of the tree which I discovered, was not the color of its bark but was in dark, shiny brown and appeared to be hard as iron. From the top of this inverted cone it had two feet in length eight huge leaves sheer to the ground like doors swinging back on their hinges. These leaves which are joined at the point the form a regular inverted vase about eleven or twelve feet long and shaped very much like the leaves of an American agave or century plant. There are two feet through in their broadest part and three feet wide, tapering to a point at that looked very much like a cross between steel and whalebone. The upper surface slightly concave. The convex side was thickly set with strong spines looks like those upon the head of a teasel. These leaves, hanging to the trunk in close downcast order, but the upper ones in search of strength and sunlight. The apex of the cone was a tuft of leaves like a smaller plant on a larger one. This was not a separate plant and there exists no such thing as a parasite. From underneath the tuft of leaves a fruit stalk issued, bearing a huge cluster of fruit which looked like a bunch of bananas. Each was about the size and shape of a cocoanut and when I could see the fruits of these great leaves pressing more tightly toward the center from their exterior. These looked down at the base of the tree and streams of water burst like thick mingled lumps of the blood and coming nearer to the stem straight on this the lumps ran and me yelled madly, bounded down and crowded to the tree. I stood aghast with eyes, lungs, hands and tongue without obtained enough of breath to send him mind and frantic.

ONCE TOO MANY

Dr. Parker relates in an article referring to the Mortimer Thompson, better known as Doesticks the following laughable incident:

In 1862 Doesticks and Artemus Ward were in Washington. Artemus was then writing his Baltimore articles. Orpheus C. Kerr was writing his papers. Charles G. Halpine was writing Miles O'Reilley war antiquities and Petroleum V. Nasby was writing his immutable four or five dialect lines. Each was at the meridian of his glory except poor Doesticks. Poor fellow, he was passing behind the hand which finally obscured him.

Artemus had one practical joke which he delighted to perpetrate every occasion and which I have forgotten to use in my biography of the genial showman. The joke was to rush up behind some old fogy, clap him on the back grasp him by the hand and greet him with the most cordial flow me you George," and then apologize to the surprised man by saying he took him for an old friend George Morgan.

Well one night in 1862 it was my fortune to go into Hammack's old saloon opposite the Treasury Department, in Washington, with Doesticks and Artemus. In the back of the saloon up five or six steps was an old Maryland farmer—just the kind of an honest antique looking old fellow as the reader may like to strike for his next victim. Doesticks saw the old farmer and telling me to stay in the front part of the saloon with Artemus, out of sight of the old man he went back himself to the corner and perpetrated Artemus' old joke in his inimitable way up to the old countryman slapping him on the back and grasping him by the hand he sung out—

"How are you George old fellow—glad to see you—why have we seen you in an age—how've you been? how's the team? how—"

Just for the advantage of me, strange interrupted the man in surprise.

Oh! I beg pardon sir," exclaimed Doesticks in the dumbfoundest manner, I beg ten thousand pardons sir I took you for my old friend George Munson, but—

All right sir—mistakes will happen; we are all liable to mistakes," says the stranger, and then Doesticks came back and joined us while the old farmer went on telling Artemus was to busy to notice what Doesticks had done, and as Q. K. Philander came back he sauntered up to Artemis and said

"I say Artemus, d'you see that old farmer over there?"

"What, the old man eating pumpkin pie with his knife?"

Yes" said Doesticks, bowing.

"Well he's a good man to come your reorganizes joke on; try it Artemus"

All right, Mort," says Artemus "You fellows have seen me all show 'you fun, I'll puzzle that old farmer till he don't know pum'kin pie from tripe."

Then Artemus walked along up the steps toward him. As he got alongside of the old farmer he gave a lurch and grasped his hand relatively with a—

"How, are you George! God bless your old bald head How's Sarah's the children? How's—

"Now, look, shouted the farmer, as he tipped over the table in his effort to get up quick, "that's twice you've blundered round here. Now, you git!" and he caught poor Artemus by the coat collar and shook the fist in his face.

"I beg pardon, sir," stammered Artemus, "I took you for my old friend George Munson—

Yes an that's twice you've took me for your old friend George Munson, you stupid idiot, you! If you take me for old—fool—do you? Oh! I could lick the eyes out of you—you—you—" and the old farmer was at his fist in the air but Artemus said 'down and out,' and came back to Doesticks all out out of breath

I tried it Mort," puffed Artemis, between his breath, "but—the—darned—old—fool got mad— He didn't know enough to take—the joke—and—"

"Why, Charley, you ought to have known better," said Doesticks, "when I'd just come that same joke on the old man myself You can't spect a man to stand that joke more twice in ten minutes, can you?"

Artemus never replied, but went straight down to Willard's Hotel and went to bed.

NEW PROCESS OF VENTILATION A new process of ventilation is now being tried in St. George's Hospital, London, which promises to create an entire revolution in all the processes hitherto in use. It is called the Boyn system and goes solely upon the principle of nature. Leaving the foul air to escape as it may through the fireplaces and windows into the open a bulk of new atmosphere. Instead of being let down from above the cool air is introduced from below, with the result of bolstering dangerous down draughts. Around the walls of the room are eight semi-circular tubes between three and four feet in height placed upright against the wall with their flat side toward it These vertical tubes descend through the floor, and are then continued horizontally to the outside of the building. The weight of the external air, being greater than that of the interior forces current through the hous- ventilating the vertical tubes, and thus propels a column of cool fresh air into the room. Its steady pressure of the exterior air obliges the column to continue its flow, furnishing it with a fresh supply. A column or sheet of air thus secures a constant sharp yet wholesome draught around the walls of the patients respectively graded like a fountain and scatters its spray of healthy oxygen When fair draft mixes with the foul air atmosphere with the impurities and leaves the chimney. There is not the slightest symptom of a down draught. The new air is first distributed in the upper stratum of the room's atmosphere and its cold and unpalatable qualities are thus quickly corrected and a comfortable temperature is produced.

THE DRY SEASON OF BRAZIL.—As an illustration of the seasonable changes of soil during the dry season in Brazil, it is stated that in June all vegetation ceases to feed being then ripe or nearly so In July the leaves begin to turn yellow and fall off in August in extent of mass thousands of square leagues present the appearance of a European Winter But without snow, the trees being completely stripped of their foliage, the plants that have grown in abundance in the wet season drying up and serving as a kind of hay for the species of ruminating herbivorous animals. This is the period most favorable for the preparation of the coffee that grows upon the mountains The beans are picked and dried on the ground which gives forth no moisture but on the contrary absorbs it and being surrounded by an atmosphere possessing the same desiccating properties the coffee dries rapidly without moulding
